Coach Kelley Doyle Snyder is a Certified Coach, Speaker and Trainer who specializes in working with entrepreneurs and professionals to live boldly in their careers and personal life. Kelley received her B.A. in Psychology from Syracuse University and her coach training from Coach U. Kelley is one of only 28 coaches in North Carolina to hold a certification designated by the International Coaches Federation (ICF). Kelley started her coaching business following a successful career in television network sales at Discovery Channel. Since 2002, Kelley has been coaching entrepreneurs and professionals including small business owners, financial advisors, attorneys and corporate executives. Kelley currently serves as President of the ICF Charlotte chapter of coaches and is a contributing writer to a weekly column appearing in the Charlotte Observer Sunday “MoneyWise”.
